

BURGLARS STEAL TOM SHARKEY'S "OLD MASTERS"

While He's Away on Trip to Detroit Thieves Invade
His Home.

SILVERWARE IS GONE.

Former Queensberry Star
Would Like to Have Interview With the Criminals.

Woe be unto the man who robbed Tom Sharkey's villa at Sheephead Bay of all the silverware except that marked with Sharkey's name and two of the works of art executed by the Old Masters. Woe be unto him if Tom Sharkey gets hold of him. "I have a clue," said the former pugilist, as he watched the cash register in his roomed fourteenth street liquor store today. "The cashier who robbed me has small feet and had a pair of new shoes on. As soon as I found I was touched I looked for clues. If I see a man with small feet and new shoes and he can't prove that he didn't rob me I'll make a parable that he will never rob anybody else."

On Trip to Detroit.

"How did it happen, Tom?" asked one of his customers.

"That is what gets me guessing. The nerve of a guy that would go into my house and rob me! He didn't know I lived there, or else he knew I was in Detroit, Mich., where I took my wife so she could have a vacation. I didn't get back until yesterday."

"They got in the back door in the morning and robbed the dining-room. Two real oil paintings they took off the walls. But they didn't take any silverware. I think that when they seen that they beat it for fear I might be around some place and catch them."

"As soon as I got wise I was robbed I looked for clues. The coward that stole my paintings stood on one of my leather-covered dining-room chairs that I bought from the swiftest house in Brooklyn when I started housekeeping at Sheephead Bay. There was the print of his feet on the leather. I wouldn't have lost those pictures for a hundred dollars. They were given to me by a friend when I was married."

"Is it true that they got a couple of works of the old masters?" continued the seeker after information.

An "Old Master" of Domino.

"Sure," replied Sharkey. "One of them was a picture of Domino, the race horse. I don't remember the name of the guy that painted them, but he was sure an old master mechanic at his business."

"Is lucky for me that they didn't get into the front room where I have my art gallery. I have some fine pictures in there of horses and one of a farm scene that reminds me of my old home in Ireland every time I look at it. If I do say it myself, I have as fine a lot of pictures as there is in Sheephead Bay. These here on the wall of the store are elegant, but I have down home has better than any I've seen."

"I have pictures on the ceiling of that room, too. They are all handpainted. I seen the guy do it. I never left the room while he was at work. You bet they couldn't stick up no photographs on the wall. I'm robbed and I'd never think it, because all thieves are cowards and didn't think of me as they would break into the home of Tom Sharkey. But I have a clue. If I get hold of the robber I won't let him over to the police. I can handle him."

Mr. Sharkey doesn't care anything about the financial loss he sustained. But his artistic nature has been sorely assailed by the outrageous assault upon his treasure.

The Story of Graham Flour.

Graham flour is so named from Dr. Sylvester Graham, who in 1828 first used and strongly recommended foods made from unbolled flour. The Graham bread and crackers made in those days were coarse and unpalatable and were even more so a dietary obligation than an enjoyable food.

But in accordance with the theory of Dr. Graham, foods made from this flour proved to be very beneficial. The digestion was strengthened—the appetite improved—and the complexion of the flour had a stimulating effect upon the digestive organs.

The Graham foods, through experiment and skill, became more and more palatable until finally the real Graham foods—the Graham bread and crackers—were produced by the National Biscuit Company. Its flavor is that of the great, sunny kernel of wheat, and it is so rich and delicious. Used instead of bread at any meal, it furnishes as agreeable change. For lunch or supper it satisfactorily takes the place of meat and heavy food and leaves none of their ill effects. As a cereal at breakfast, nothing can excel Graham Cracker and cream.

The National Biscuit Company Graham Cracker are packed in moisture and dust-proof boxes, keeping in all their crispness, freshness and flavor. When you open a box it is equivalent to taking them from the oven, and therefore Graham Cracker should be served from the original package to be enjoyed at their best. CUT-UP WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND ADRIFF IN BAY

Part of Trunk and Legs Discovered Off Resort on Staten Island.

A portion of the body of a young woman who was murdered and cut up as in the Guildensteepe case was found floating to-day just off Happyland, the Staten Island amusement resort at South Beach. At first it was supposed by Coroner Cahill and the police that the fragment was part of a corpse that had been cut to pieces by the propeller of a steamship.

Dr. Moord, the Coroner's Physician, after a careful examination, said that the separation of the part of the body found at Happyland from the rest of the frame was accomplished with a sharp knife. The portion, washed and examined, consisted of the lower section of the trunk and the legs, with the feet severed.

"It is my opinion," said Dr. Moord, "that the woman was killed and cut up and that the different parts of the corpse were thrown into the bay or one of the rivers with weights attached. The edges of the cuts show that they were made with a sharp instrument, wielded by a strong hand."

It had been in the water for a long time—possibly for weeks—and there are indications that it was fastened down by weights. A strong piece of twine with an end depending from a tight knot at the back, was tied around the waist. There was another strong piece of twine tied around the right leg, just above the knee.

The two ends of these pieces of twine are ragged, as though they had been separated from something else, to which they were tied by the action of the waves. Coroner Cahill says that the twine was strong enough to hold heavy iron pieces or stones with which a body might be sunk in the bay.

In life the unfortunate woman whose fate was made known by to-day's discovery was young and slim. Quite likely she was a girl not over eighteen years old. This much is apparent. Casual examination failed to disclose any scars or marks that might serve as an aid to identification. The twine is of the ordinary kind used in stores on heavy packages.

John Morris, one of the Happyland employees, was cleaning the beach at the southern end and making ready for the rush of patrons in the afternoon, when he noticed something bobbing on the water a short distance out. The tide was coming in and he watched the object. Soon it rolled on the hard sand at his feet and he saw what it was.

With the assistance of others on the beach, he dragged it out of reach of the waves and then notified the Happyland office. Messages were sent to Coroner Cahill and the police. Word of the find spread through South Beach and along the shore and a great crowd gathered.

Screams May Give Clue.

Several persons in the crowd said that early in the season a young girl and two men went out in a rowing boat one night from South Beach. Some time later the screams of a woman were heard from far out on the water.

The next day the boat was found on the shore nearly a mile away from South Beach. Neither the girl nor one of her companions was seen about the resort again.

CAN'T END CRIME WAVE, BINGHAM AGAIN ASSERTS

Police Commissioner Says the Outbreak Will Have to Run Its Course.

For the second time in a week Police Commissioner Bingham expressed to-day his inability to suppress crime. He said the wave of crime that is sweeping all four boroughs will have to run its length.

"The present spread of crime," he said, "is not confined to this city. It has gone into New Jersey, and we hear of it from Berlin. There the population is for the most part German and cannot be ascribed to the mixture of races."

"There would not be so many crimes against children in New York if their parents would only take proper care of them and see that they returned home before dark. If they would see to it they would protect their little girls better than the Police Department can with an inadequate force."

"Then there is a spread of gambling that the police will have to suppress. A pernicious system of issuing injunctions against the police at the instance of gambling-house proprietors is also spreading. The courts seem free to grant any sort of application that is made to protect lawbreakers and keep the police from getting evidence. It will be impossible to suppress gambling as long as the lawless hand out these fake injunctions."

TWO MEN KILLED IN BLAZE THAT SWEEP FISHERIES

Third Fatally Burned and 200
Others Run for Life in Big Coast Plant.

GREENPORT, L. I., July 31.—Two men were burned to death and a third possibly fatally injured at a fire which destroyed the plant of the American Fisheries Company at Promised Land, eighteen miles east of this place, early to-day.

The plant was one of the largest of the kind on this Atlantic coast and the loss is placed at $800,000. The company only last spring had put in new machinery that cost $125,000.

The fire started in the drying room, where the bunker oil and fertilizers are stored. Just how it originated is not known.

The men who lost their lives were at work when the flames broke out and were unable to escape with some 200 others who rushed from the building.

The third man was rescued while flames surrounded him. He was hurried by brought to the Eastern Long Island Hospital here. All the victims are foreigners and their names not known.

PART OF DRIVER'S LOAD CRUSHES HIM TO DEATH.

Jolted From Wagon, Man and Heavy Stone Fall, and He Is Killed.

Michael Rolles, a truckman of No. 37 Third avenue, Brooklyn, to-day was driving a truck heavily loaded with curbstones when, at Fifth-second street and Fort Hamilton avenue, the horses swerving caused him, who was standing on the load, to fall to the street. The jolting also threw one of the heavy bagestones, which fell on his head as he struck the ground and crushed his skull. He was instantly killed.

$250. Reward

A reward of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any lawbreaker or other person guilty, under the provisions of Section 550 of the Penal Code of the State of New York, of criminally receiving any property belonging to this Company.

Women as Well as Men Are Made

Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The third man was rescued while flames surrounded him. He was hurried by brought to the Eastern Long Island Hospital here. All the victims are foreigners and their names not known.

Announcement.

Sunday World readers in Greater New York will receive a free ticket to Miller Brook, famous 101 Ranch at Brighton Beach Park next Sunday. Order from your newspaper. Edition limited.

Anty Drudge's Way of Economy.

Working Girl—"It takes half my spending money to get my shirtwaists laundered. I'd do them myself, but I can't get hot water for boiling in our boarding house."

Anty Drudge—"Use Fels-Naptha soap, dear, and you won't need hot water. You can do them in cold or lukewarm water. They'll be whiter and fresher than any laundry can make them and you'll save that money."

Working Girl—"Oh, thank you, Anty. Maybe I can save enough to get that new hat."

Do you wear white clothes all through Spring and Summer? Makes too much washing, you say. Not if you use Fels-Naptha soap.

Fels-Naptha keeps white clothes fresh and clean with little work at little cost. You wash them with Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water without boiling and you don't have disagreeable steaming suds.

Then your clothes wear longer if washed with Fels-Naptha. No boiling to weaken their fibre; no hard-rubbing to wear and tear them.

Fels-Naptha will not harm the most delicate fabrics. Fels-Naptha makes it easier to wear white clothing. Be sure to follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

Fels-Naptha will lighten the labors of housecleaning, just as it does the drudgery of wash day.
